于Abstract>In the drug market, filled with a large number of fake and shoddy drugs, to a large extent, affect the market environment, is not conducive to the regulation of the market order, but also will bring serious harm to people's body. Therefore, it is necessary to do a good job of drug anti-counterfeiting work, and resolutely crack down on the existing phenomenon of counterfeit drugs, so as to curb the prevalence of counterfeit drugs to the greatest extent, ensure a good market environment, and be responsible for people's health. RFID technology has a very prominent role in drug anti-counterfeiting, which can strictly crack down on the phenomenon of fake drugs, avoid the problem of fake drugs at the source, and provide a good way for the anti-counterfeiting work of drugs, so that consumers can correctly choose genuine medicine and suppress the phenomenon of fake and shoddy products. This paper analyzes the application process of RFID technology in pharmaceutical anti-counterfeiting, and provides a feasible development scheme for its practical application process.
